

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the position that is available at your company. I was a recent graduate with a Master of Science in IT from Kennesaw State University, with a background in full-stack development. I'm excited about this opportunity to make a meaningful contribution.

My technical skills maintain a good balance in the light of the requirements for the role. The programming languages I am able to handle and work with, highly essential in the making of strong software development, are Python, Java, and JavaScript. Added advantages to those are the web technologies of HTML/CSS, VueJS, NodeJS, and a very good overview of relational and non-relational databases for participation in new and existing Technology solutions development and support.

In my capacity as a Graduate Professional Assistant at Kennesaw State University, I have developed responsive websites and web applications that align with the position available in the firm. My experience as a Full Stack Developer at Sahyadri Aerospace demonstrates that I am capable of handling large projects, cross-functional teams, and delivering to improve efficiency and customer satisfaction.

I am excited about the rotational nature of the Technology Development Program that would afford me experiences across application development, platform technologies, and data analysis, fitting into my career goals and desire to be a well-rounded software engineer. The experiences in the MEAN stack development of a web-based healthy living platform and structural health monitoring of bridges vouch for my adaptability in different technological environments and provide innovative solutions accordingly.

Further, my AWS Cloud Practitioner certifications demonstrate that I am ready to work with cloud technologies, which I understand are important for any IT company. I look forward to applying these skills and continuing to learn in a dynamic, global environment.

I am excited to have the opportunity to join the team and be a part of driving its strategic initiatives. My passion for technology, coupled with the firm's commitment to making a positive impact in the world, makes this opportunity particularly appealing to me.

Thank you for considering my application. I very much look forward to the possibility of discussing how I can contribute to your company and grow as a professional within your organization.

Sincerely,

Yash Gabale